

SYDNEY THEATRE COMPANY

SOCIAL MEDIA COMMUNITY TERMS OF USE

Updated 26 Feb 2026

Theatre is a community artform, built on the coming together of diverse voices to share thoughts, perspectives and ideas.

Sydney Theatre Company recognises that social media provides our audiences and community members with a space to connect and share their thoughts on the work we make and our industry at large. We encourage community-building in all its forms and we are always thrilled to see STC people coming together to share their love of theatre.

Sydney Theatre Company must also be a safe and respectful place for everyone who interacts with it. Where social media is concerned, we ask all users who plan to interact with us online to keep this in mind. We reserve the right to remove any posts, comments or tags on our social media, especially where the content is abusive, defamatory, pornographic, sexually suggestive, harassing, hateful, racist, sexist, discriminatory and/or unduly personal in nature. The same applies to the repeated posting of the same content (spam).

If a user continues to post content that has been deemed to contravene these guidelines and removed by our moderators, they may be banned from following or participating on our pages or accounts.

We appreciate your cooperation on this front and look forward to hearing from you soon.
